RIDGELAND
there's more!

From the Mayor

As Mayor of the City of Ridgeland, I am asking for your help in fighting litter. As you know, one of the most important things we can do for our city is to keep it clean and beautiful. It is more appealing to visitors and allows our property values to grow when we have a litter-free city. As I drive the streets of Ridgeland and ride my bike, it is distressing to see the amount of garbage that is being thrown on our streets. I realize that a lot of this is done by non-residents, but I'm sure there are residents who contribute to littering our roadways. Whether it be fast food bags, empty cans or bottles, plastic grocery bags or even cigarettes, they all are litter and they take away from the aesthetic beauty of our city. Owners of pickup trucks, please don't throw trash in the bed of your trucks. A large portion of litter comes from trash being blown out from the beds of pickup trucks. Remember, it is very expensive for the City to keep our roadways clean. There are many man hours spent picking up trash, and I'm sure you would much rather have your tax dollars spent more effectively. Hopefully, each of you will do what you can, as well as encourage your friends and neighbors to join you in keeping our city litter free.

Gene McGee
Mayor of Ridgeland

Many of you know we have been fighting a battle to keep a third landfill from being built in Madison County and west of the Ridgeland city limits. It is our position that the County does not need an additional landfill and we need to be doing everything we can to reduce waste. With this in mind, I want to encourage each of you to spend more time working on your recycling habits. Not only is it good for the environment to recycle, but in the City of Ridgeland you can be rewarded with points through RecycleBank and get nice discounts at restaurants and some retail establishments. Ridgeland is the number one city providing curbside recycling in Mississippi. I'm very proud of that distinct honor and believe we can continue to grow our recycling program and continue setting an example for other cities in Mississippi, as well as across the United States.

Lastly, I would like to welcome Mary Beth McCullough to the City family as our Community Promotions Coordinator. We are excited about the tremendous talent that Mary Beth brings to the City and look forward to working with her for many years to come. Mary Beth may be contacted at marybeth@ridgelandms.org.

THE ULTIMATE TEST OF FAITH

The Story of Angie Maxwell

The Maxwell Family

David, Kadie, Reese, and Angie Maxwell

When David Maxwell and his son Reese talk about their wife and mother Angie, their faces light up. David and Angie met years ago at a church where David was working. He chuckles when he says, “I was the official janitor and the unofficial youth pastor.” They married on June 2, 1990, in Columbus, Mississippi, and later welcomed their son Reese and their daughter Kadie to complete their family of four. Angie and David began a wonderful ministry together where they served in youth ministries in churches across Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida.

While life seemed to be occurring at a normal pace for the Maxwell family, things took a sudden change in 2016. As the couple began routinely getting ready for their annual trip to student camp, Angie began having a difficult time recalling information. After struggling for some time with headaches, the couple made the decision to seek medical attention. The doctor visits eventually led to a CT scan in June of 2016 that showed a tumor in the right hemisphere of Angie’s brain. After having surgery to remove the tumor, the couple was told that the glioblastoma tumor was very aggressive and would need immediate treatment.

“We lost everything in Hurricane Katrina when we were living on the Gulf Coast, and we believed that was our big trial for our lifetime and our big test of faith. We didn’t expect that we’d ever be given anything worse than that. We were wrong,” says David. While this diagnosis would lead to a difficult ongoing journey over the next two-and-a-half years, the faith of David and Angie never wavered. “Even in the most difficult of times, Angie would say, ‘God’s got this,’” shares David. One specific example of this was when Angie had her head shaved for the first time. Reese recalls, “Even when mom was getting her head shaved, she wanted to raise money in some way for missions. Part of the reason why we could jump into our faith so easily was because mom’s faith was so strong.”

Without hesitation, the Maxwell family attributes faith as playing a significant role in their experience. “These are the times when you figure out if you really believe what you say you believe,” says David. “My faith never wavered, but there were many times where I was angry with God.” During the two-and-a-half-year journey of Angie’s sickness, as well as following her death, their family had many hard conversations with God that often involved anger and tears. “The key is to stay honest with what you are feeling. God hears you,” states David. “God gave us little gifts along the way, like the ‘snap-outs.’ There were a few precious days when Angie would snap out of the illness completely and have complete brain function. Although temporary, our wonderful physician had told us this was possible and that they would be blessings. They really were,” continues David.

David claims that he will never understand why Angie was chosen to bear the pain and suffering of a brain tumor, but Angie always used it as an opportunity. “When mom first got sick, her story was used to lead someone to the Lord, and I remember her saying that because of that, the disease was worth it,” shares Reese. Even when God chose not to heal Angie physically, they remained true to their firm belief that this life is only temporary, and they are all only moments behind her in Eternity.

In Angie’s final days, David, Reese, and Kadie, along with Angie’s physician, made the decision to move Angie to hospice care. They chose the inpatient facility at Hospice Ministries because they wanted to spend quality time with Angie. They were able to stay around the clock with her before she died on October 28, 2018. “We’ll never forget those sweet and peaceful times that we had with her. We wanted every last moment to count.”

After Angie’s death, grief set in and each family member experienced it differently. They unanimously agree that grief counseling and support are essential after the death of a loved one. David is active in a grief group at Hospice Ministries, and Reese and Kadie are both involved in groups as well.

David also believes that another important element of healing is to take care of yourself. “I make it a point to exercise and participate in triathlons to give myself an outlet to relieve stress. Last year I participated in the Hospice Ministries Run to Remember 5K. It was a great way for us to remember Angie. I have a special playlist of music that I listen to when I miss Angie, and I played that when I ran. The camaraderie was great, and it was a reminder to me that there are many other people who have been through what we went through,” says David.

This year’s Run to Remember 5k and One Mile Run will be held on April 18, 2020, at Hospice Ministries in Ridgeland, Mississippi. For more information visit www.hospiceministries.org/5k.

NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

Every year, the City of Ridgeland participates in The National Day of Prayer. In 1952, President Truman signed into law the existence of this annual event, and in 1988 President Reagan signed an amendment designating the first Thursday in May as The National Day of Prayer.

“The National Day of Prayer is very important to The City of Ridgeland and all its citizens. This is an excellent opportunity for us to come together as one in prayer to pray for our country, our state, our county and city and the leaders of each,” said Mayor Gene McGee. “It also affords us the opportunity to pray for our first responders, as well as those who are in the armed forces protecting our freedom.”

The event will be held at Ridgeland City Hall on May 7, 2020, at noon. The schedule will include speakers and performers from the area. “I encourage all citizens to come to City Hall and be a part of this prayerful time together,” said McGee.

OTL Completes Extraordinary Special-Effects Show Fountain AT DESTINATION RETAIL CENTER NEAR JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

Written by J. Wickham Zimmerman, Chief Executive Officer of OTL

In Fall 2019, Ridgeland, Mississippi – a suburb of Jackson – welcomed the completion of Phase II of Renaissance at Colony Park, an open-air destination retail center co-owned and developed by The Mattiace Company.

Influenced by European and Mediterranean architectural styles, the center features a distinctive lifestyle Main Street concept marked by brand-name and upmarket boutiques in an elegant outdoor shopping plaza featuring cafes, play areas, and an iconic centerpiece: a brand-new dancing show fountain designed and constructed by OTL.

As the focal point of the new center and the first retail show fountain of this magnitude in the area, OTL wanted to make sure the fountain was site-specific and truly unique – while honoring the State of Mississippi.

The fountain is inspired by the interwoven S's that appear in the State of Mississippi's logo, which themselves are inspired by water. Equipped with cutting-edge audio, lighting, and effects, the new water feature delivers customized shows that transform this central gathering place into a hub of entertainment.

OTL worked directly for the developer and in close coordination with general contractor Brasfield and Gorrie to bring the stakeholders' vision for Phase II to life. As the fountain designers, OTL also worked hand-in-hand with the project's design team: site architects Wier Boerner Allin Architecture, landscape architect Trent Rhodes, and project architects Dean & Dean/Associates Architects.

The spectacular show fountain features 62 nozzles that shoot water up to 35 feet in the air, as well as robotic, multi-axis nozzles, illuminated by over 200 color-changing LED lights. An iconic central fountain jet is able to reach a stunning height of 100 feet, making the fountain visible from the adjacent interstate, I-55.

The visibility and prominence of this fountain will attract guests from miles away, resulting in a landmark that drives continual interest among shoppers and guests.

OTL also designed and installed a state-of-the-art audio system comprising eight two-way speakers, four subwoofers, and six amplifiers in order to ensure concert-quality entertainment for guests at the Renaissance.

Several of the speakers and theatrical lights are mounted on buildings to enhance the fountain's interactivity and ability to create engagement. By connecting the show with surrounding retailers and buildings, the fountain aids in delivering an immersive experience that today's consumers crave.

In addition, OTL designed and choreographed the fountain's water shows to move beautifully to a wide variety of music, offering the opportunity to easily customize shows by season or event.

As technology evolves, OTL continues to push the envelope of innovation in its work. The show fountain at Renaissance at Colony Park features innovative equipment and technology to ensure a sustainable, customizable, and stunning water feature that will deliver tremendous value to the center owners, tenants, and guests for years to come.

Situated at the northwest corner of I-55 and Old Agency Road, Renaissance is located at 1000 Highland Colony Parkway in Ridgeland, Mississippi.

Ridgeland Names New Recreation & Parks Director

The City of Ridgeland has named John Sidney North as the new Recreation & Parks Director effective January 1, 2020. North started with the City in October 1996. North is being promoted from Athletics Coordinator. As Athletics Coordinator, North learned the importance of team work in a department.

“By using this approach, it has enabled me to take part in the long range planning for facilities, property, equipment, personnel, budgeting and other administrative areas,” said North. “My position has allowed me to interact with individuals and representatives of the community to enhance recreational opportunities available in Ridgeland.”

The Recreation & Parks Department has recently installed new turf and drainage at Freedom Ridge Park and preparing for new parking lots at Hite Wolcott, which North was part of the planning and implementation. North plans to continue the precedent set before him by previous directors to ensure that our facilities and events remain regarded as the best in Mississippi and in the South.

North is replacing Chris Chance who has been the Recreation & Parks Director since 2000.

Ridgeland Recreation and Parks Department, through a coordinated effort, seeks to enrich the quality of life for the citizens of Ridgeland by offering safe and accessible facilities and a diverse program of activities. With this effort, our goal is to provide the total community the opportunity to develop new skills, to create new interests, and to learn new hobbies that will enhance and expand their physical, mental, and social development. It is our desire to provide you with outstanding facilities and programs, operated in the most efficient, cost-effective manner possible.

RIDGELAND LANDFILL?

If you live in the City of Ridgeland, you've likely heard about the attempts made by a group of investors to bring a landfill, also known as a "garbage dump," to our area. The proposed site is next to the Little Dixie landfill, located in Madison County off North County Line Road and near the Natchez Trace Parkway.

"We need your help. Our efforts to stop this dump from being built in our county are ongoing, and I am calling on all citizens to contact the Madison County Board of Supervisors and tell them to stop the landfill," said Gene McGee, Mayor of Ridgeland.

At the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality Permit Board meeting in January, it was agreed that considerations for the proposed landfill would cease until the Madison County Board of Supervisors submits an updated needs assessment to the MDEQ Permit Board.

"We all know landfills create a foul odor and pollute our environment, but they also damage our roads, depreciate our home values, and weaken our economy," said McGee.

At present, Madison County has two landfills – Little Dixie and Canton Sanitary. If this landfill is approved by MDEQ, Madison County would be the only county in Mississippi to have three landfills. Please contact the Madison County Supervisors to voice your opposition to the landfill.

Recycling Plastic Bags the Right Way

The City of Ridgeland and its residents have always taken pride in its efforts to recycle for a cleaner environment. If you live in Ridgeland, the ability to recycle is as simple as tossing it in your 64-gallon recycling cart provided by the City. However, before you recycle, make sure you're not doing more harm than good.

Plastic bags, such as those used to bag groceries, cannot be recycled. According to Waste Management's website, "Plastic bags are not accepted as part of curbside recycling programs – they get tangled in equipment and threaten worker safety." In fact, "Plastic bags can shut down an entire recycling plant." If part of your recycling routine is collecting recyclable items in a plastic bag, empty the contents into your recycling cart, and reuse the bag.

Though plastic bags are not a recyclable item for curbside pickup, there is a solution to recycle them. Most of our local grocery stores and super markets have a designated bin set aside at the front door just for recycling these type of bags. Just bag them all up and toss them in the bin!

To educate yourself on recycling protocol within the City, visit www.RidgelandMS.org or www.WM.com. Happy Recycling!

The Historical Society of Ridgeland – TELLING RIDGELAND’S STORY

Written by Polly Hammett

2019 was a busy year for the Historical Society of Ridgeland. In April we were asked to participate in the America in Bloom Judges’ Tour. It was a two-part tour. The first part was a tour of Jessamine Cemetery and Old Town led by Polly Hammett. The second part, led by Nancy Batson, gave the judges a tour of historical markers and tree preservation efforts made in the Old Agency Road area. The Society was pleased to receive high praise in the judges’ review.

In late October the Society led a tour of the Jessamine Cemetery. It started out at the Yellowley family plot with Polly Hammett giving a brief history of the family and then pointing out other gravesites of interest. The tour continued with Society members Lynn Sturdivant Hunt, Joy Sturdivant Ellis and Robby Carr, whose Ridgeland family roots go back from 75 to 125 years. They walked attendees through history as they told stories about their family members buried at Jessamine. Gravesites of note include a former governor, former mayors and city officials and many military veterans of WWI, WWII, Korea, Vietnam and the Gulf Wars. There are two soldiers from the Civil War...one from each side! The Society plans to present this tour again in 2020.

Known in early times as “Yellowley Crossing,” Ridgeland developed around the railroad. Old Town is the original plat chartered as “The Village of Ridgeland” in 1899. Jackson Street was the central business district of that time. The Historical Society was asked to work with the City and Jackson Street businesses to find a name for this district that honored the history of Ridgeland. The name suggested by the business community and approved by all on the committee was “The Railroad District.” It was also decided to officially designate the original plat as “Old Town” and to rename the street formerly known as NE Madison to “Old Town Crossing.” A ribbon cutting was held in November on The Plaza at Old Town Crossing to commemorate this event and unveil new street signs. This street runs from the new City Complex through the heart of Old Town, connecting the future of our city to its historic roots.

The second annual Ridgeland Christmas Tree Lighting was held at the Plaza at Old Town Crossing in December. As one of the primary sponsors of this event, the Society strives to ensure that the City’s past is represented. This year we reached out to local artist, Mark Millet, and commissioned artwork for the event. The painting he created captures the essence of Old Town, depicting the beautiful Christmas tree at the Plaza. It will be used in future lighting events through banners, posters and other publicity avenues.

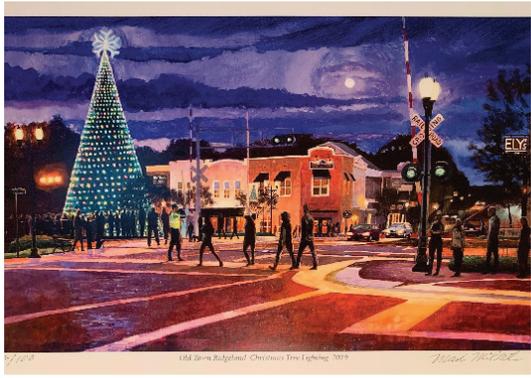

The Historical Society and Historical Committee meet periodically in the boardroom at City Hall at 1 p.m. Our next meeting is scheduled for April 16, 2020. If you are interested in learning more about the history of Ridgeland or have stories to add, please make plans to join us.

Attendees enjoy a walk through history in Jessamine Cemetery

Representatives from the City, Ridgeland Chamber of Commerce, Keep Ridgeland Beautiful and The Historical Society of Ridgeland take part in the ribbon cutting on The Plaza at Old Town Crossing Original artwork and prints are available from Mark Millet. Contact him at (601) 856-5901.

HELP PREVENT STORMWATER POLLUTION IN RIDGELAND

What is Stormwater?

Stormwater is water from rain that does not soak into the ground. It flows from rooftops, over paved areas, bare soil, and sloped lawns. As it flows, stormwater collects and transports animal waste, litter, pesticides, fertilizers, oil and grease, soil and other potential pollutants.

What's the Problem?

Rain events wash pollutants from land, streets and construction sites into storm sewers and ditches. Eventually, these empty the polluted stormwater directly into our streams, rivers and ultimately the Ross Barnett Reservoir with no treatment. Polluted stormwater degrades our lakes, rivers, wetlands, reservoir and other waterways.

What can YOU do to Prevent Stormwater Pollution in Ridgeland?

1. Remember only rain belongs in the drain!
2. Wash your car over your lawn or gravel.
3. Keep your car well maintained.
4. Consider disconnecting your downspouts and rerouting the water into a rain garden.
5. Use lawn or garden chemicals sparingly.
6. Plant native, low maintenance plants and grasses.
7. Minimize runoff by not over-watering your lawn and garden.
8. Clean up pet waste.
9. Consider minimizing impervious surfaces around your home.
10. Make sure storm drain outfalls are not running in dry weather. If it hasn't rained in 72 hours, it should not be flowing. Call Ridgeland Public Works at (601) 853-2027 if it does.
11. Properly maintain your neighborhood stormwater pond.
12. Install a rain barrel or cistern to capture roof runoff.
13. Walk, bike or share a ride when possible.

Elite Titans Cheer Squad

The Elite Titans cheer squad of Ann Smith Elementary had a very busy holiday season! The squad is a girl's club built on the principles of sisterhood, leadership, and academic success. It includes ladies in first and second grades who attend Ann Smith Elementary. During the holidays, the ladies focused on community service projects. While on Thanksgiving break, the ladies went to the Salvation Army in Jackson and helped prepare over 200 meals to give to less fortunate families. The ladies were in charge of boxing and bagging the pies.

Last year for Christmas, the Elite Titans donated pajamas to the children at Sunnybrook Children's Home in Ridgeland, MS. This year for Christmas, they rang bells, cheered, and sang Christmas carols for the Salvation Army at the Ridgeland Walmart. The ladies were greeted by many, including a board member for the Salvation Army who said she couldn't wait to get back to the board and tell what an awesome job Ann Smith Cheer Squad was doing. The girls raised a lot of funds that day for the Salvation Army. The bucket was filled to capacity within two hours, and we were only there for three hours. The last hour we had to push funds inside the bucket while we waited for the Salvation Army leader to bring over another bucket. "Giving back to others is a discipline my co-sponsor and I try to build up in our ladies. We always remind the ladies of our cheer quote: 'We are Elite Titans who try our best, to be the best, with self-respect and confidence. I know who I am, where I am going, and who I want to become. I am Elite!'" Octavia Jackson, Cheer Sponsor.

ASE Super Titans

ASE had some very happy Super Titans in the month of December. Sergeant Shearrill of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, in conjunction with PetSmart on I-55 gifted ASE's December Super Titans with a teddy bear. Super Titans were selected by their teachers for being the best problem solvers in their classrooms. The students were beaming with pride as they carried their teddy bears home with them to show their parents.

‘GLAM’ Gives Girls Positive Role Models, Maturity Lessons

WJTV anchorwoman Candace Coleman (right) was the keynote speaker at the banquet for GLAM, a club organized by Akilah Potee (left).

Anyone who has survived middle school knows that navigating through life during this time of body changes, increased responsibility and confusing emotions is not easy. Understanding the challenges that girls face at this age, ICT teacher Akilah Potee, organized a club focused on teaching and mentoring Olde Towne girls. Girls Learning About Maturity, or GLAM, meets once a month after school and pairs each of the girls involved with a mentor.

“GLAM takes a proactive approach, establishing a supportive environment needed for all young ladies in school to achieve social, emotional, and academic success,” explains Potee.

More than forty girls in sixth, seventh and eighth grades are participating in GLAM, and 17 teachers and faculty members have volunteered to mentor two or more girls.

“With middle school being such a formative age, there is no other club at this school that draws in more teachers or faculty for support. This is the most involved organization at Olde Towne,” says school counselor and GLAM mentor Michelle Borho. “They’re able to talk in a group of girls and women they trust. And if they’re too scared to ask a question in front of the whole group, they have a mentor who they can talk to in private. They’re getting an education from a safe and reliable place, rather than online or from social media.”

Rikiya Wilson, an eighth grader participating in GLAM for the second year, says she’s grown up a lot since joining the club last year. “I’ve learned how to carry myself well, and how to speak my mind. I try to be a leader and not a follower. I’ve learned you don’t have to be perfect. You’ve just got to learn from your mistakes,” Wilson says.

Each meeting has a theme and an expert from the community to speak as a guest on that topic. So far the girls have had lessons in sewing, manners, healthy hygiene practices and taking good care of their bodies and their skin. At the time of publication, they had plans to visit the Madison County Justice Court and meet Justice Marsha Weems Stacey.

Seventh Grader Keshantis Sims, says she joined GLAM because everyone was talking about how fun it was. She says she’s also learned a lot. “We’ve learned about manners, how to set the table and how to eat properly. GLAM teaches you how to present yourself well... We’ve even learned how to brush our teeth correctly.”

Last December, Sims and the rest of the GLAM girls had the opportunity to put their etiquette lessons to use at a special banquet with WJTV anchorwoman Candace Coleman as the keynote speaker.

“Candace Coleman spoke to the girls about not letting other people dim their lights,” Potee recalls. “I’m paraphrasing her words, but she talked a lot about the girls being who they are. She also encouraged them to turn negative comments into positive ones. When Candace was young, people told her that she talked too much. She turned ‘talking too much’ into something positive and ended up as a TV anchor for her career.”

The GLAM banquet would not have been possible without community sponsors, including Highland Colony Baptist Church, WJTV Channel 12, Slim Chicken’s, Basil’s, Kroger, and Madison County Schools. Having the community extend their support meant a lot to the school and showed the girls that other people care about their success, Borho says.

“Research shows that it takes at least three positive adult role models involved in a young person’s life for them to be successful. GLAM gives the girls at least one more involved adult her in life,” Borho explains. “Also, the club has shown the girls that they have a community of support around them. It is cool for them to see people at the school beyond their own teachers and local churches and businesses investing in their success.”

The girls of GLAM were able to put their new etiquette skills to the test at the GLAM banquet held last December. Special guests included Mayor Gene McGee, and keynote speaker Candace Coleman of WJTV.

More than 40 girls participate in GLAM at OTMS, and each one is paired with one of the 17 faculty mentors who volunteer for the club. Most of the mentors are pictured here at the banquet.

RIDGELAND HIGH TITAN STUDENT AUTHORS SWEEP ESSAY CONTEST

Ridgeland High School students claimed first, second, and third place in the metro-wide Children's Health Initiative Essay Contest sponsored by UnitedHealthcare Community Plan of Mississippi, Quinn Healthcare PLLC, the Mississippi Academy of Family Physicians, the Mississippi Chapter, American Academy of Pediatrics, and the Mississippi State Medical Association. Ridgeland High English and ACT prep teacher, Christine Davidson, encouraged students to submit essays to the contest. The contest prompt asked students to address "Why is it important for all teens to have a yearly well-visit check-up?" Pictured are Mrs. Christine Davidson, Asia Williams (third place), Timothy Walker (first place), Austin Hicks (second place), and Ridgeland High School Principal Keith Fennell.

Coach Roderick Davidson Promoted to Assistant Athletic Director

TITAN FAMILY SINCE “DAY ONE”

Coach Rod Davidson was named Ridgeland High School assistant athletic director July 2019, segueing into the position from 17 years as a successful coach and physical education teacher at the school.

Davidson has coached the boys' basketball team since the school's opening in 2002, winning 351 games at RHS. "I've had some really good players here at RHS, winning seven district championships, a North State Championship. We earned four trips to the "Big House" with one ending as a 5A State runner-up. Passing the reins on was not a hard job because I know the team is in good hands."

Under Davidson's leadership, RHS won a tennis state championship and finished as runner-up one year, with ten individual state championship winners in boys' and girls' tennis singles.

Coach Davidson vividly recalls his first day at Ridgeland High. He joined the staff that opened Ridgeland High School's doors in 2002, moving boxes in on July 15, 2002. "The next day, my daughter Holly was born," Davidson said. "Holly was the first baby born into the new Titan community." Eighteen years later, Holly, a member of the Ridgeland High Class of 2020, elected student body president and homecoming queen, and a four-year member of the volleyball team, will graduate in May.

And there are more Titans in the family. Coach Davidson's wife Christine teaches English, including advanced and AP English, at Ridgeland High. "Coming to work and getting a chance to see Christine and Holly during the day brings joy to my heart each day. Christine is one of the most caring people that I know. She goes above and beyond to make sure the students get what they need using the skills God gave her to help students reach their full potential." Their son Josiah is a very involved and personable sixth-grader at Olde Towne Middle School.

In his new position, community connections are a priority. "In addition to working with all the coaches and student athletes, I serve as a liaison for the Ridgeland High School Athletic Booster Club, as well as to the local community. Businesses were used to getting phone calls or a letter in the mail. We all agreed there is a better way to make and build relationships. Now I go out two to three times a week to speak to the businesses that support us here at RHS and also build new relationships. We share what's going on at the school and our weekly events. They provide me with updates on what's new with them regarding promotions and their community events."

Assistant athletic directors wear a lot of hats and helmets. "My position includes promoting sponsorship opportunities, supporting coaches, ensuring student-athlete eligibility, preparing an athletic calendar, and assisting with major events like homecoming," Davidson said. "Sponsorship opportunities include advertisements on the electronic scoreboard at the Titan stadium, in the gymnasium and at the ball fields, as well as ads in programs and the yearbook."

Ridgeland High spring sports include archery, track, tennis, golf, baseball and fastpitch softball.

"I'm very thankful that Mr. Fennell, Coach White, and Superintendent Seals gave me this opportunity at Ridgeland High School," Davidson said. "I would not have had the successes I have had without the support system from the players - past and present - administrators, parents, and the City of Ridgeland. As both a teacher and a parent at Ridgeland High and a resident of Ridgeland, it is a privilege to be able to work and live in such a great community."

Titan Assistant Athletic Director Roderick Davidson's family includes his wife Christine Davidson, an English teacher at Ridgeland High; Holly, Ridgeland High School Class of 2020; and Josiah, a sixth-grader at Olde Towne Middle School.

HOLMES COMMUNITY COLLEGE

412 W. Ridgeland Avenue

A multi-campus institution, Holmes Community College offers the Associate of Arts degree, Associate of Applied Science degree, technical and career certificates and workforce training. The college now offers more than 50 academic majors, approximately 30 professional programs and a variety of student support services. Holmes is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges.

Richards Receives Eliza Pillars RN of MS Nursing Scholarship

Holmes Community College Ridgeland Associate Degree Nursing (ADN) sophomore Lyric S. Richards of Madison received a scholarship during the 2019 Eliza Pillars Registered Nurses of Mississippi District IV Scholarship Gala. Held on Dec. 13 at Fondren Hall in Jackson, the gala theme was “An Evening with the Stars.” ADN instructor Dr. Tiffany Cox, ADN adjunct instructor Tonya Spells and ADN Chair Dr. Alice Austin attended the event with Richards.

“I would like to congratulate Lyric for completing all requirements to be eligible for this award,” Dr. Austin said.

Prior to beginning nursing school at Holmes, Richards earned a Bachelor of Science from Mississippi University for Women (MUW) in 2018.

“Lyric is a nontraditional student with an undergraduate degree already in hand,” Dr. Cox said. “So, I think she takes her academic endeavors seriously and has pre-knowledge of what it takes to get the job done. The characteristics of compassion, sincerity, hard work, humbleness and a Christian love are what Lyric personifies on a daily basis and some of the things that will assist her in being successful in the nursing profession. I congratulate Lyric on receiving the competitive Eliza Pillar’s Scholarship and hope that she will remember this achievement and use it to motivate her to continue learning and being an active part of her community.”

For more information about the ADN program at Holmes, contact Dr. Austin at (601) 605-3419 or austin@holmescc.edu.

HOLMES LADY BULLDOGS MAKE SCHOOL HISTORY

The Holmes Community College Lady Bulldogs were on a roll this year, making it to the NJCAA Gulf South District Championship for the first time in the college's history before falling to the eventual National Champion Tyler Junior College. Holmes finished the record-breaking season 18-3 overall with 115 goals and captured the team's first MACJC State Championship and Region XXIII Championship along the way.

The Lady Bulldogs were nationally ranked for the entirety of the season, getting as high as number 11. The team finished third nationally in goals scored with 115 goals, which is the highest amount in program history. This was also the team's fourth MACJC North Division Championship in a row.

"I'm exceptionally proud of the players and the coaching staff," said Head Coach Matt Convertino. "The players bring a great attitude to training every day and the staff does a great job of preparing them technically and tactically every day as well as keeping them focused and motivated to play each game."

Following the match against Louisiana State University - Eunice that made the Lady Bulldogs Region XXIII champs, Convertino was named Coach of the Year, as well. This was also the team's fourth North Division Championship in a row.

"I feel absolutely ecstatic," Convertino said, referencing the Lady Bulldogs' Region XXIII Championship win. "It was a fantastic game. We knew that LSU-E had great players, and they absolutely showed up to play. It was a battle throughout. Our players were up for the challenge, didn't give up, continued to battle, and we were fortunate enough to get the result."

After a disappointing run in the playoffs last season, Women's Associate Head Coach Wesley Noble said the sophomores had their minds made up that it would not happen again this year.

"The sophomores, I couldn't be any more proud of them," he said. "They had a rough ending last year with getting upset in penalties. We talked about it over and over. If we learned to use it the right way, we'd get to a place we needed to get to, and that's what they did. They put us over the hump. They got us that first MACJC championship and the first NJCAA Region 23 championship."

"The freshmen have been first class," he said. "A lot of them stepped in and played big minutes. We have girls who are high up in the stats nationally who are freshmen, so I'm really proud of the whole group."

The women's soccer team was not only successful on the field this past fall, but in the classroom as well. During the fall 2019 semester, 15 Lady Bulldogs made the President's List with a 3.70 GPA or higher. Eleven of those 15 had perfect 4.0 GPAs. Five other players finished the semester on the Dean's List with GPAs between 3.40 and 3.69. Overall, 23 of the 27 members of the women's soccer program finished with a 3.0 GPA or higher. Since the women's soccer program began in 2010, there have been 157 student-athletes who have made the President's or Dean's List.

"Academics are something that are emphasized within the culture of the soccer program, Convertino said. "We want them to know that playing soccer here is about more than just wins and losses."

To celebrate the season, the coaches hosted a team banquet on Feb. 26. Cariel Ellis was recognized as NJCAA All American and NCJAA All Region Player of the Year. In fact, she is the first Holmes women's soccer player to be named to the NJCAA Division I Women's Soccer All-America Team. She was also named team Most Valuable Player and Golden Boot Award recipient.

Additionally, players named All Region included Zoe Ellis and Mackenzie Thompson. Zoe was named Most Valuable Offensive Player, as well, and Mackenzie received the Playmaker Award. Those named MACJC All State were: Lanice Chandler, Kya Davis, Halleigh Steed and Carly Williams. Halleigh was also named Most Valuable Defensive Player. The Leadership Award went to Alysia Terry, and Laney Smith was named Most Improved. Finally, the Bulldog Awards went to Caseigh Hickman and Peyton Montgomery.

"Great things are going on here at Holmes within our women's soccer program," Convertino said. "Associate Coach Wesley Noble does a fantastic job not only recruiting some of the top talent in the area, but also with the way he handles the players on a daily basis and develops them and helps get them to the next level."

Noble said that it has been an exciting time celebrating their successful season and also planning for next year.

"As far as recruitment, we almost have this class finished," Noble said. "We have 11 commits right now, and we are looking to add a few more. We are excited about the class that's coming in. There's a lot of talent and a lot of really good actual footballers who can help us go to a new level in that aspect that we haven't gone to I think. I'm really excited about that."

For more information about the Holmes soccer program, contact Head Coach Matt Convertino at wsoccer@holmescc.edu or (601) 605-3412.

Individuals searching for employment are able to browse the internet for jobs, type up and print out résumés, and apply for jobs online. If someone needs to work on their job skills, we offer an amazing and life changing resource for our patrons called the Learning Express Job and Career Accelerator. Find conversations to help you land that impeccable job, explore occupations, search for jobs and internships, build a cover letter and résumé, or match the perfect job with your skills and interest through this free resource at Ridgeland's computer lab.

For students, the Learning Express Library offers training and practice tests for a variety of standardized tests including the GRE, ACT, SAT and GED. There are also practice tests to help with Middle School and High School skills such as Reading, Math, Writing and Spanish. Students also have access to our MAGNOLIA database, which is a priceless, unfathomable gift of knowledge for the patron, given through federal funding by the Mississippi Library Commission. The MAGNOLIA database provides a large source of journals, newspapers, magazines and books to gather information on almost any subject for school projects. MAGNOLIA serves as a great resource for non-students as well.

NovelList is a wonderful reader's advisory service that provides recommendations and book discussion guides. The Database also provides users with full text of many periodicals including newspapers and magazines.

For people interested in learning another language, the library offers online language courses through Rocket Languages. There are 14 available languages including Spanish, Italian, Japanese and Sign Language. Classes include language lessons, culture lessons, games and tests.

If patrons are interested in a training program on how to use Magnolia, please let us know. If there is a huge enough response, we will put a class together!

For those interested in genealogy research, the library offers two resources. HeritageQuest is available in the library and by remote access through a link on the Madison County Library System's website. Ancestry Library is available inside the library only. Both are great sources for anyone interested in family history research.

These are just a few of the many great resources the Madison County Library System offers the public for free! For most of your job, education, or informational needs, the computer lab at the Ridgeland Public Library is the place to visit. Stop by today and see how we can assist you.

The Ridgeland Library Computer Lab has sixteen computers. The Library also offers printing, scanning and faxing services.

THE FRIENDS WANT YOU

Did you know that the Friends of the Ridgeland Public Library is a 503(c) organization? This non-profit group raises money to benefit the library through book sales and various other events. They have raised money for new furnishings, supplies for the Summer Reading Program, funding for materials to host children, teen, and adult programs throughout the year, and so much more. The Friends of the Library welcome all new and potential members. You may choose to be a member with little involvement or help with various volunteer opportunities during fundraising events. The Friends of the Library membership offers you an advantage by helping the heart of the Ridgeland community. It also provides professional development, committee opportunities, and fellowship! We encourage everyone to inquire about the new committees recently formed to help promote a stronger and more active organization.

Join today! Individual membership is $12, Family Membership is $20, Corporate Membership is $100, and Life Membership is $250. All donations and membership fees are tax deductible.

Ridgeland Chamber Banquet HONORS VOLUNTEERS AND CITY LEADERS

Some 350 business leaders and city officials packed the Country Club of Jackson's ballroom, celebrating Ridgeland's economic growth and development during 2019 and honoring volunteers for their dedicated service to the Chamber and City.

With its theme, An Evening with Marshall Ramsey, the Chamber's banquet featured editorial cartoonist Marshall Ramsey and award-winning musician Raphael Semmes and the Raphael Semmes Combo.

2019 Chamber President Bill Bethany, Community Bank of Mississippi, said the Chamber topped off a strong period of growth in 2019. He noted the Chamber's 900+ membership, more than 100 ribbon cuttings and community activities such as "Monster Bash" and the Chamber's Clay Shoot which raised funds to purchase equipment for the Ridgeland Police Department's Employee Wellness Center.

"2019 marked the 26th Anniversary of our Chamber," Bethany said. "We have reached many milestones over the last 26 years. Today, we are recognized across the metro area as an organization with momentum, constantly setting new goals and offering fresh, innovative programs.

Outgoing Chamber President Bethany passed the gavel to 2020 President Chase Bryan of Young Wells Williams, P.A.

"Our 2020 theme is Ridgeland . . . Bringing Mississippi Together, and this year we will continue helping our businesses succeed with promotional opportunities like 'Shop Small Saturday' and 'Shop Local/Buy Local,'" he said.

"We will offer expanded networking events that encourage our businesses to do business with each other and our citizens to shop local. Our new website, which will be revealed next month, will provide exciting opportunities for our businesses and community at large," Bryan said.

"And," he added, "we will promote Ridgeland's business community as Mississippi's Business Destination by showcasing all the many products and services our various business members have to offer."

Ridgeland Chamber volunteers were honored for their contributions to the Chamber and the City of Ridgeland.
